

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

At the present time, the day force of workers at the Connecticut mills are working on about an 80 per cent production capacity for the plant. The night shift is operating about 40 of the 100 looms in the plant and running other machinery.

Just at this time, the tire, fabric, bus, and not quite so brisk as was the case a few weeks ago, but there are indications of a coming improvement. The food year plant continues to run 40 hours per week.

The body of Emory Carlos Darling, who was found dead in an out building at his home in East Killingly was removed to the undertaking rooms of A. F. Wood in Danielson. Mr. Darling is believed to have died Monday, though his body was not discovered until Wednesday. He lived alone and the fact that he had not been seen about the place lead neighbors to investigate and resulted in the finding of the body. Dr. George M. Burroughs, medical examiner, viewed the body and ascribed a cerebral hemorrhage as the cause of death. Mr. Darling would have been 76 years of age had he lived until December. He was a native of Thompson. He leaves his wife, resident at Attawaugan, a daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Evaloy of Danielson and two sons, Mrs. Martha Hall of Putnam and Mrs. Horace Franklin of Providence.

Tomorrow (Saturday) will be Clive Federation Tag day and those who are interested in the welfare and prosperity of this unusually fine organization are anxious that all residents of the town be reached for contributions as generous as may be possible in each individual case. This year the federation faces the necessity of losing two large annual subscriptions because of the industrial depression that has been felt hereabouts during the past year. Each of these annual subscriptions amounted to $100, and the fact that they will not be forthcoming this year makes it incumbent upon the federation officers to plead for more generous giving by individuals.

Mrs. E. H. Reuch, chairman in charge of the tag day drive, says that $100 is the smallest amount that the townspeople should give for the industrial depression. She is hopeful of getting much more, and will bend every effort to that end.

Poor Danielson people have to be told of the great good the Clive federation accomplishes each year. It is an active, accomplishing organization entirely devoted to public welfare work. The services rendered by its visiting nurse and the clinics that it sponsors for tubercular patients alone are enough to recom-

FEMININE FANCY FINDS PERFECT EXPRESSION IN A NEW AUTUMN PRINTZESS SUIT

A great fashion authority once said that a tailored suit is the basis of every well-dressed woman's wardrobe.

In these Printz originations is embodied the subtle Parisian touch. In the skilful combination of fabric, color, decoration and detail of workmanship, lies their distinctiveness.

These tailleurs for Autumn show numerous interesting variations of design which provide styles for many types and needs, in women's and misses' sizes. There is a very interesting group of fur-trimmed models—a large variety of embroidered suits and coats—a distinctive collection of plainly tailored garments emphasizing beauty of line.

It is not only style distinction but the worth of Printz fabrics and the excellence of Printz tailoring that give to the wearer of a Printz model the satisfied feeling of being well-dressed.

You will be surprised to find that Printz coats and suits are moderately priced, no higher than many garments of questionable value and infinitely more desirable.

WE SUGGEST THAT YOU MAKE YOUR SELECTION EARLY.

the distance states that it is exactly 49 miles from the Attawaugan hotel in Danielson to the state capitol in Hartford via the new Brooklyn-Hampton-Willimantic route.

Danielson hunters will be out in force Saturday when the season for hunting protected game birds opens. This year killing hunters will have to keep their hunting dogs in leash excepting when the animals are actually engaged in hunting, as the quarantine regulations continue in force in this town and the same applies to the town of Brooklyn.

After January 1 drivers of Ford cars equipped with what are known as green visor lenses will have to replace them with some kind of lens listed as legal in Connecticut. The green visor lenses are blinding and the source of much complaint from drivers of cars with legal lenses.

"For Safety Sake" signs that have been erected at base corners and curves along state roads through this territory as warnings to drivers to proceed with caution have been in most instances torn down by vandals who may be other than speed kings.

A considerable number of Danielson people have been at Brockton attending the fair this week.

John McGowan, who has been employed at Watch Hill during the summer months, has returned to his home in Elmville.

Harry A. Saunders of Pawtucket was a visitor with friends in Danielson Thursday.

The first killing frost of the fall season visited this section Thursday morning and blooming plants were hard hit in some sections.

Arrangements have been made by the state to pay compensation to property owners who are giving up rights of way for the new state highway to be built between a point two miles east of Danielson and the Rhode Island line at Little Rest.

Some members of Rose of Lima council, K. of C. were at Putnam Thursday evening to attend the bazaar of Cargill council.

Arthur Grimes and W. E. Bitgood are to leave Monday morning for Clearwater, Fla., where they are to be employed for the winter.

The series of breaks that has occurred from time to time since last winter at summer cottages around Alexander's lake are expected to be cleared up as the result of the arrest Thursday afternoon of four boys who live near Dayville. The boys admitted some of the breaks after they were taken into custody Thursday afternoon. They are Melios Mignault, 15; Louis Mignault, 14; Joseph Mignault, 13, brothers, and Leo Barber, 14. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mignault, parents of the brothers were being held at the police station here Thursday evening to answer to a charge of having received stolen property.

Grading operations are so far advanced on the state highway east of here that it is likely that the route to South Killingly via Reynolds street will be open for travel and reasonably evened up in another two weeks. At a point just beyond where grading is now being done the old road and goes through the farm of the Meadows Brook inn, so that operations there will not interfere with travel for another period.

Coroner Arthur G. Bill said Thursday morning that he may decide to hold the inquest relative to the death of Stanislas Maciejewski of Webster in this city. Mr. Bill was not certain Thursday as to whether he will be able to get to the matter this week. A majority of the witnesses in the case are residents in or near North Grovesdale, where a convenient place for the inquest is not available. Maciejewski died of injuries he received last Sunday evening when the motorcycle, with side-car, which he was riding crashed into a touring car owned and driven by Albert Gendreau of North Grovesdale.

Only one case was disposed of at Thursday morning's session of the superior court—that of the state vs. Albert LaFontaine, charged with a statutory offense. LaFontaine, who had pleaded not guilty on Wednesday, changed his plea Thursday morning to guilty on two counts set out in the information and was sentenced to pay a fine of $1 and serve six months in the county jail, a total of a year in jail.

LaFontaine is of Woodstock and the charges preferred against him were due to his relations with a Ballouville girl with whom he became acquainted while he was engaged in doing work on a chimney at the mill in that village.

Twenty-three jurors appeared in court to be drawn from for trial of the case but their services were not required and they were excused by Judge Marvin until this (Friday) morning to which time court adjourned.

There are 65 cases on the criminal list this term and a considerable period will be required to dispose of them, as trials are expected in several cases.

It is possible that Salvatore LaRossa, who died following an attempt to commit suicide at the jail in Brooklyn, will be buried as a state pauper. Sheriff Charles A. Gates said while in this city Thursday morning that efforts to locate relatives of LaRossa in this country have failed. LaRossa never legally established a residence in any Windham county town and Sheriff Gates does not feel that the county is responsible for his burial expenses. Therefore, attention of state officials have been called to the case and it is likely that the state will make an allowance for the funeral expenses.

A touring car owned by Daniel Weeks was almost completely destroyed by fire on the state highway near the Children's home at about 1.30 Thursday morning. Mr. Weeks with a friend had been in Providence, which they left about 12.30 a. m., for home and had nearly reached this city when a small jet of flame was noticed under the car. The machine was halted and every effort made to extinguish the fire, which, however, gained rapid headway and soon enveloped the machine. Mr. Weeks' eyes lashes were singed off and his eyebrows shortened while he was making an effort to save the car, which was towed into this city during Thursday morning. The car, which was new a few months ago, was covered by insurance against fire.

Parents of the little people of this city are being especially invited by Captain J. H. Bulger of the police department to be present in Union square at 8 o'clock Saturday evening to see the exhibition of the picture, "Where are your children?" a motion picture put out under the auspices of the state motor vehicle department as a part of the effort being made to reduce the numbers of motor vehicle accidents occurring in the streets and highways of the state.

The pictures, which were filmed in Connecticut, vividly present many of the highly hazardous things that children do every day in going to or from school, or while on errands or at play. They show how appalling rapid may be the sequence of events leading to the death or serious injury of a happy, careless child venturing across busy streets. The object of the picture is to impress parents with their duty of instructing their children to exercise caution every time they cross a street and to forbid them indulging in certain ventures that have so many times brought death to formerly happy homes.

The pictures have been shown in many towns and cities of Connecticut and everywhere have made a deep impression. Comedy reels will be shown with the feature film and there is to be a band concert in order that the affair may include entertainment as well as instruction. The showing is to be made at the square so that as many of the city's people as possible may attend.

Evening classes at the state trade school in this city are to open Monday evening of next week. Director H. H. Ellis announced on Thursday. Subjects to be taught are machine shop practice, carpentry, cabinet-making, weaving and loom fixing, cloth analysis and designing, yarn calculations, elementary and advanced electrical work, mechanical drafting, architectural drafting, shop mathematics, sewing, dress making, millinery and cooking. Residents of any Connecticut town may enter for these courses, while have given under the direction of the training staff of the school and without expense to students.

One hundred grade school teachers are expected in Putnam Monday next when an institute for teachers in Putnam and towns hereabouts is held at
